McAdoo retires from KDOT

Frances McAdoo, Application Developer II in the Bureau of Information Technology Services for the Kansas Department of Transportation (KDOT), is retiring on March 14 after 35 years of service to the state of Kansas.

McAdoo began her career in 1979 at the Kansas Department of Revenue. Two years later, she started at the Department of Child and Family Services and spent 23 years there working with computers. She received a promotion at KDOT and has been in her current position for the past 10 years where she creates applications, reports and data.

She has seen many changes during her career, from there being only a mainframe computer, to personal computers, and now servers. McAdoo is a member of the IT Acquisitions Review Board for the bureau and completed the Certified Public Managers Program.

McAdoo and her husband, Scott, have one son who is married with two children. She resides in Topeka.
